Day 1: Lhasa arrival [3650m]

[-, -, D]

Welcome to Lhasa! Your English-speaking Tibetan guide and driver will warmly welcome you and accompany you to your hotel. Lhasa is one of the highest cities in the world. We understand that the high altitude of Tibet can be challenging for some, so we recommend taking your time to acclimate. Rest assured, we will provide all the necessary support to ensure your well-being. Remember to drink plenty of water and take a good rest to minimise any altitude sickness symptoms. Get ready to embark on a once-in-a-lifetime adventure! Overnight in Lhasa.

Day 2: Lhasa sightseeing

[B, -, -]

At the assigned time, we'll begin our tour by visiting the iconic Potala Palace. Built in the 17th century by the fifth Dalai Lama, this magnificent palace offers breathtaking views of the entire city and is home to the private quarters of the Dalai Lama, numerous grand state rooms, and chapels. Afterward, we'll visit the revered Jokhang Temple, founded in the 7th century by Songtsen Gampo, which is considered the most sacred monastery in Tibet. Immerse yourself in the rich cultural heritage of this magical land: take a stroll through the vibrant Barkhor old quarter and follow pilgrims from all over the Tibetan plateau on a kora around the Jokhang Temple. Kora is a term used in Tibetan Buddhism that refers to the practice of circumambulating around a sacred site, such as a temple, stupa or mountain, as a way of showing devotion and accumulating merit. The practice involves walking clockwise around the site, often while reciting mantras, prayers or other sacred texts. It is also believed to bring good fortune and blessings to those who undertake it. Overnight in Lhasa.

June 3rd, 2025.

[B, -, -]

Today we'll visit Drepung and Sera monasteries. After breakfast, we'll venture to the outskirts of Lhasa to witness the grandeur of the Drepung Monastery, the largest in Tibet, which once housed 7000 monks. Along with the monasteries of Ganden and Sera, Drepung is one of the three great centers of Tibetan Buddhist education in the Gelugpa school, also known as the Yellow Hat Sect. Founded in the 15th century, it was the former residence of the Dalai Lama before the construction of the majestic Potala Palace. In the afternoon, you'll be mesmerised by the famous debates of the Sera Monastery, where the monks engage with vibrant energy in intellectual discourse and challenge each other's understanding of Buddhist philosophy. It's a truly awe-inspiring experience not to be missed! Overnight in Lhasa.

June 4th, 2025.

Day 4: Ganden Monastery and Drak Yerpa Hermitage day trip [140Km]

[B, -, -]

We will begin the day with a visit to Ganden Monastery, located atop a hill in the Kyichu valley, 50 km from Lhasa. It is the main seat of the Gelug Sect and was founded by Tsongkhapa in 1409. You can also do a kora around the monastery, which offers peaceful views of the typical Tibetan landscape. After lunch, we'll head to the off-the-beaten-path complex of Drak Yerpa meditation caves and temples, one of the most holy pilgrimage sites since the 7th century. The visit takes about 2-3 hours of walking on a hillside. We'll then return to Lhasa for some free time. Today activities will improve our acclimatisation to high altitude. Overnight in Lhasa.

June 5th, 2025.

Day 5: Lhasa – Tsedang – Samye [180km, 3575m]

[B, -, -]

Let the adventure begin! We will head South-East towards the Yarlung Valley, the cradle of Tibetan civilization. Today's plan includes exploring the region where the ancient Tibetan kings unified Tibet in the 7th century. Our first stop will be at Tsedang, the fourth most important city in Tibet, where we will visit the Yumbulagang Palace which dominates the valley from the top of a hill. Considered as the first construction in Tibet, resembles a medieval fortress. Next, we will visit the Samye Monastery (8th century), the first Buddhist monastery in Tibet. The monastery's unique architecture forms a gigantic mandala, following the structure of the universe according to Buddhist cosmology. If time permits, we will also visit the Temple of Traduk today. Overnight in Samye.

June 6th, 2025.

Day 6: Samye – Gyantse [280Km, 3980m]

[B, -, -]

Early breakfast to get ready for an exciting day: we'll start driving West towards Tsang region to ascend the Kampa-la Pass [4797m], where you'll witness the stunning Mt. Noi jin Kangsang [7206m] and the breathtaking turquoise waters of holy lake Yamdrok-Tso. An unreal sight that will leave you spellbound all along the way to the Karo-la Pass [5050m], where you'll marvel at the glacier that majestically hugs the roadside. The final stop will be the charming Gyantse town, home to the Kumbum Stupa inside Pelkor Chode Monastery, renowned for its exquisite Tibetan art paintings. From the top of the Kumbum, you'll also be treated to a magnificent view of the majestic Gyantse Dzong fortress overlooking the valley. Overnight in Gyantse.

June 7th, 2025.

Day 7: Gyantse – Sakya [250Km, 4320m]

[B, -, -]

Our first destination today is the historic Shalu Monastery. Built in the 11th century, the monastery was partially destroyed by an earthquake in the 14th century and then rebuilt, resulting in a blend of architectural styles. Shalu Monastery boasts an impressive collection of Buddhist art and sculptures that are well-preserved. It was a renowned center of learning for various tantric practices and techniques, and some of these skills were described in Alexandra David-Néel's book, "Magic and Mystery in Tibet," which impressed the world. Back to the Friendship Highway, we'll take you to the stunning Sakya Monastery, the principal seat of the Sakyapa Sect founded in 1073 and one of the four major Schools of Tibetan Buddhism. Its powerful abbots governed Tibet during the whole of the 13th century until they were eclipsed by the rise of the Gelugpa Sect. With its unique Mongolian architecture, this monastery stands out from any other you've seen before. The lucky ones June get to witness the sunset from atop the monastery walls, accompanied by the hypnotising sound of the monks playing their dungcheng, a traditional long Tibetan horn. Overnight in Sakya.

June 8th, 2025.

Day 8: Sakya – Rongbuk (Mt. Everest) [230Km, 5000m]

[B, -, -]

Another thrilling day! We'll reach one of the major highlights of our trip, near Mt. Everest North Base Camp [5200m]. The journey to Rongbuk involves crossing the high passes of Gyatso-la [5220m] and Gawu-la [5150m]. Gyatso-la gives the opportunity to view Mt. Everest and the Himalayas for the first time; and from the top of the Gawu-la you'll enjoy amazing views of several peaks like Makalu, Lhotse, Cho Oyu, and Mount Everest. The Rongbuk Monastery is located at the foot of the Everest, and the highest monastery in the world. You'll spend the night at the tourist camp site located a few Kilometres from the real EBC used by climbing expeditions, where you'll have direct views of Mt. Everest (Qomolangma). Since 2018 tourists are not allowed to visit the EBC due to environmental protection and now there is a eco-bus shuttle to access Rongbuk. Overnight at simple guesthouse tent (dorm bed without bathroom). Sleeping bag is recommended.

June 11-14th, 2025.

Days 11-14: Mt. Kailash Kora during Saga Dawa Festival [52Km, max. altitude 5630m]

We begin the Pilgrimage Kora of Mount Kailash, the most sacred mountain in Asia. Tibetans and Hindu people from all over the World come here for religious reasons. First we'll go to an important pilgrimage area called Tarpoche where Saga Dawa Festival is held every year on the 15th day of the 4th month in the Tibetan calendar to celebrate the day Lord Buddha Sakyamuni was born, achieved enlightenment and passed away. Saga Dawa is the most significant festival in Tibet and for this reason we all tibetans are willing to visit Mt. Kailash and complete its kora during this time. Our trekking plan is as follows:

June 11th, 2025.

Day 11: Trek to Dira-Puk Monastery [20Km, 5-6h, 5050m].

[B, -, -]

We will begin the kora with a gentle ascent, enjoying views of the southwest face of Kailash as we enter the Valley of the Gods and follow the Lha Chu River to the Dira Puk Monastery. From here, we will have privileged views of its north face. Overnight in Dira-Puk, at the foot of the majestic north face of Mt. Kailash, in a simple guesthouse (dormitory room without bathroom, with an outdoor latrine).

June 12th, 2025.

Day 12: Trek to Mt. Kailash North Face [7Km, 3-4h, 5050m].

[-, -, -]

Today's main goal is to carefully approach the wall of Kailash up to the Gangjam Glacier and intensely feel the almost 2000 meters that separate us from the summit. Depending on the glacier and terrain conditions, we will get as close as possible to the wall. Free time to meditate and connect with the mountain. Once back at our lodge, you are free to visit Dira-Puk Monastery and the surroundings. Overnight in Dira-Puk, at the foot of the majestic north face of Mt. Kailash, in a simple guesthouse (dormitory room without bathroom, with an outdoor latrine).

June 13th, 2025.

Day 13: Trek to Zutul Puk Monastery, [18Km, 6-8h, 4820m].

[-, -, -]

The day will start frosty and present itself as a great challenge. After a long 4-hour climb, we will reach the highest point of the journey: the Drolma-la pass at 5630 meters. The descent is initially steep but then becomes a comfortable walk until we arrive at the Zutrül Puk Monastery. Overnight in Zutrül-Puk, in a simple guesthouse (dormitory room without bathroom, with an outdoor latrine).

June 14th, 2025.

Day 14: Trek to Darchen [14Km, 3-4h, 4670m].

[-, -, -]

The final day is a mere formality compared to what was experienced the previous day. A gentle descent will allow us to complete the Kora around Mt. Kailash. But remember, it takes 107 more koras to achieve enlightenment. By midday, you should have arrived back in Darchen. Optionally, and after a brief rest in Darchen, we will take the mandatory "eco-bus" service to circle the Mapham Yum-tso (Manasarovar) lake kora. Overnight in Darchen.
